THE TERRITORIES.

It is rumored that the fort at Walla Walla will be regarrisoned with United States troops.

The horse disease has attacked nearly all the stage horses between Tenino and Olympia.

Walla Walla county has levied a tax of 11½ mills on the dollar to run herself this year.

Cows with their calves sell at $20 each on the Touchet, but they are what is generally called scrub stock.

Walla Walla city foots up $180,[illegible] in real estate and $502,[illegible] in personal property, according to this year's assessment.

Instead of at Steilacoom, as had been planned, the Puget Sound Baptist Association will this year hold its third annual meeting in the Baptist chapel at Olympia, on the 27th day of June instant.

A Walla Walla man, whose judgment in regard to stock is particularly good, says he has been in the stock-raising business for a great many years, says that in Walla Walla valley good cattle, horses, and mules were cheaper than in any other part of the United States.

Gen. Milroy, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Washington Territory, will visit the Indians in the northeastern portion of the Territory in about a month. He goes to examine for himself the proposed new reservation, and to communicate with the Indians in person.

The Walla Walla Statesman learns that John A. Simms, Agent in charge of the Colville Reservation, is instructed to arrest and bring to trial the Indians who lately ordered Surveyor Richardson to abandon the survey he was making on the north side of the Columbia.

Thos. Wilson, late of Denver, has mysteriously disappeared from Olympia, and his protracted absence leads to the impression that he has either been taken suddenly ill or foully dealt with. Mr. Emrich, proprietor of the Western Hotel, would be glad to learn of his whereabouts, if he is alive.

The Walla Walla Union says: "Wool seems to be coming in quite plentiful just now, but as yet we think there has not been any of consequence shipped down the river. For the present it is being stored here. Most owners have not yet commenced shearing, but in another week they will fairly begin to make the wool fly."

The following statement shows the amount of business transacted at the United States Land Office at Walla Walla during the month of May, 1873: 35 pre-emption declaratory statements, filed for 5,280 acres; 11 homestead applications, filed for 1,269 acres; 1 soldier's declaratory statement, for 160 acres; 7 final pre-emption proof and certificates issued for 1,072 acres; 4 final homestead proof and certificates issued for 600 acres. Total number of acres disposed of during the month of May, 3,371.

LATEST NEWS ITEMS.

In the New York Assembly the Local Option bill was lost by a vote of 47 to 50.

On the night of May 24th, a large portion of the village of Bedford, Canada, was destroyed by fire, including the town hall and three hotels.

The New York Herald editorially demands that the Modocs who have surrendered to Gen. Davis should have meted out to them prompt justice without delay. Their fate, it says, is the gallows. To feed and fondle the murderers of our troops is to hold out promises for barbarous savages all over the West. Let them hang.

A treaty has been made with the lake bands of the Sioux Indians, by which they cede to the Government one million acres of land—fifteen miles in width by 100 miles in length, including the fertile region between the James and Red rivers, along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad. The consideration is the payment of $80,000 yearly for ten years, to be invested in agricultural implements, clothing, etc.

The changes in the French Government are severely commented on by the New York press. The Herald thinks the election of McMahon was not a gain of a Monarchy or Empire, but that it points to the definite establishment of the Republic. The Times thinks that McMahon's acceptance contains not one word that can relieve the evident alarm of Republicans. The Tribune regards the monarchical conspiracy against the Republic, as for the present a triumph.

A thunder-storm, causing serious loss of life, passed over Flushing, Jamaica and Springfield, May 23d. Thunderbolts struck in a number of places in Foster's Meadows. About twelve German laborers were cutting asparagus, and it is supposed they attracted the lightning. Two of them, David Henker and Henry Harken, engaged in one row, and four others, were struck and instantly killed, and numbers of others received shocks. Laborers working on the Snyder farm, names unknown, were also killed, and many trees were torn from top to roots by lightning.

A Washington special says that an important movement is on foot here and in Europe, looking to the establishment of a magnificent Empire in the north and west of Mexico. A number of the largest capitalists in the world have been negotiating with the Mexican authorities for contracts for Sonora and Lower California, or for the granting of extraordinary privileges. The Sun connects President Grant with the scheme, and says that McKenzie's raid was all along planned, and is regarded as a feeler toward annexation. It thinks there are immense profits in view for the leaders in the scheme.

The mysterious poisoning of six domestics in the family of Judge Blatchford, New York city, of which our dispatches have spoken, is still a subject of investigation. It was at first supposed that arsenic had been placed in certain corned beef of which they had eaten, but the annexed certificate of a chemist to whom the meat has been submitted, pronounces against that theory, while it opens up for the thoughtful study of medical gentlemen a question of grave importance to every carnivorous mortal:

William M. Heerguard, Esq., M. D., 1,183 Broadway—Dear Sir: The beef meat and bone which you left in my charge for chemical examination on May 20th last were examined for arsenic, but were found to be perfectly free from that substance or any other mineral irritants.

The effects caused by the meat must, in my opinion, be attributed to the formation of poison in the meat itself, produced by some peculiar process of decomposition.

I believe that this will be the first case on record of poisoning by salt beef, while such from pork, bacon, sausages, game, cheese, salmon, crabs and mussels are longer known and not of very rare occurrence.

The symptoms produced by this mysterious poison are those of an irritant, vomiting and purging kind, giddiness, accompanied by heat in the throat, general numbness and inflammation of the eyes. It is noteworthy that although the poison is formed by a process of decomposition, advancing decay will again destroy it so much so that articles of food are most liable to be poisonous when the primary decay is hardly noticeable. Respectfully yours,

H. ENDEMANN.

The Committee of Science of the Franklin Institute have been making a series of experiments with the Westinghouse air brake on trains, and the results are interesting. Operated from the engine, the train, going at the rate of 50 miles an hour, was stopped in sixteen seconds, moving 564 feet after the brake was applied. Operated from the center car, the train stopped in fifteen seconds with in 515 feet. Acting automatically by severing, the train stopped in twelve seconds, within 507 feet. With the train going 40 miles an hour, the brake was applied by severing the engine from the train, and stoppage was effected in ten seconds, within 315 feet. Various other experiments were made which were altogether successful.

OREGON.

The epizooty has broken out among the people in the Waldo Hills.

Gustaff Elm, a Swede, formerly employed by Henry Striker, of La Grande, died suddenly at Union on the night of the 16th ult. with probably cholera morbus.

Judging from the tone of the La Grande Sentinel, much indignation is felt in Union county at the proposal to set apart the Wallowa valley as an Indian reservation.

The settlers in Wallowa valley denounce the report that they intend to commit criminal onslaught on the Indians, as false, but for purposes of self-protection declare war to the knife.

The Polk county Circuit Court is still in session. The case of Glaze vs. Whitley, damages, was on trial Saturday. Verdict for plaintiff, $366 66. The indictment against Whitley for biring Sutton to shoot Glaze was dismissed upon demurrer.

During the month of May the Salem Postoffice transacted a money order business amounting to about $8,000. The orders issued numbered about 170. The office, since it became a money order office, has issued 7,825 money orders. The sums, however, are generally small.

From Mr. Scheefer of the Wallowa, the Sentinel learns that all the families, except six have left the Wallowa and sought safety in Grand Ronde valley. The fort is completed and located in the middle valley. The farmers herd their stock in the day time and corral it by night time. No Indians have been seen since last fall. This is considered an ominous sign, as they should have visited the Wallowa after deer and elk late in the winter, and for fish in the spring, which they did not do.

The Union county jail now has two occupants. One is a Chinaman held to appear before the grand jury for stealing a horse. The latter is a chap from Baker county lately, and probably a New York rough formerly, named Tom Colling a sailor by profession when he works, and probably a discharged soldier or deserter from the army, who did take, steal and carry away two nice "shoulders of pork," belonging to Henry Striker, but was caught, tried, convicted, and by justice Baker sentenced to 60 days in the county jail.

The Sentinel has the following items from Wallowa Valley. There is plenty of good land in Wallowa valley for all who desire to locate here. Stock is so fat that it looks out of shape. It has been rumored that the Wallowaites intend to commence hostilities on the Indians, which is all false. Old miners say that the prospect on the head of the Wallowa river for gold is promising. The Wallowa river is rising, but the bridge is done. The postoffice in Wallowa has fallen through. This is sad news for the settlers.

A letter from Spatta, Union county, dated May 30, says: "A fire occurred in the China quarters, close by this place, between one and two o'clock this morning, which came near destroying our whole place. Fortunately very little wind prevailed at the time, and through the exertion of our townsmen, the demon was kept from its mad career. Messrs. E. N. Cohn & Co. have a heavy stock of merchandize on hand, and had the town caught fire they would have been heavy losers. As it is Messrs. Geo. Wright & Son, of Union, lost a house on which they had a mortgage of $500, and with the exception of four China houses the loss was not to exceed $1,[illegible]00 all told."

Decoration Day.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES AT ARLINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Fully 10,000 people were on the ground at Arlington to-day. Three grand arches were erected in the rear of the Lee mansion—one over the right or south entrance, another over the north entrance, and the third over the main entrance—each trimmed with festoons of evergreens and flowers, and mottoes wrought in green. A special feature of the profuse decoration was two large pyramids, representing the different branches of the U. S. service, having for their most striking ornamentations muskets, sabres, swords, drums and other implements of warfare, the whole being surmounted with a liberty cap. The tomb of the unknown dead was festooned with flowers and evergreens from base to apex, and from the muzzle of each cannon surmounting it stringers of evergreens wound to the ground. The monument was covered with American flags wrapped with evergreens. The front of the large mansion was also ornamented, the eight massive columns being trimmed with tri-colored fabrics. Above the columns a festoon of American flags was arranged, while in the center was a large shield, from which stringers of evergreens connected to the columns. From the entrance to the amphitheater was a line of flags extending around the grand stand and auditorium back to the starting point; and at each tree near thereto a shield was placed in position. The entrance gates were also arched with flags and evergreens.

The rostrum capable of seating three hundred persons, was uncomfortably crowded. Among the distinguished invited guests who participated in the exercises were President Grant, the heads of the various Executive Departments and Bureaus, Governor Cooke and other District officials.

Rev. Dr. Tiffany opened with prayer. A chorus of five hundred voices, comrades of the Army of the Republic, sung the National Hymn, entitled, "To thee, O Country!" after which was recited an original poem by Dr. E. A. Duncan; and the hymn of "Peace on Earth" was sung by the Grand Army choir, and upon its conclusion the orator of the day, Rev. J. DeWitt Talmadge delivered an oration. A male chorus sung a musical selection from "Comrades in Arms," followed by an instrumental production by the marine band, which terminated the services at the rostrum and amphitheater.

Upon the completion of the exercises at the stand, orphans and such others as could find accessible standing room near the granite monument, proceeded to the tomb of the unknown dead. The exercises opened with the national anthem, "God Save the Union," by the Grand Army Choir, after which Rev. John Chester offered a prayer. A body of orphans from the National Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, under charge of the lady managers and officers of the Home, then sang the hymn, "Soldiers' Memorial Day," after which an original poem was recited by comrade J. P. Irvine. In the course of the afternoon the graves were strewn with flowers.

LONDON'S INTERDICTED PLAY.—"The Happy Land," a burlesque which afforded such intense amusement to Londoners a few weeks ago, because Messrs. Gladstone, Lowe and Ayrton were represented "to the life" dancing the can-can, still affords talk for the theatergoers, says a correspondent. It is robbed, however, of its chief merits by the withdrawal of Mr. Gladstone in high check pants, having a Highland fling with Mr. Lowe, in cherry-covered overalls, before a bower of farries, and the people have to put up with the "counterfeit presentment." The people, however, are not to be done out of their little fun, and the windows of the music-dealers' shops are decorated with a beautiful fly page to a sheet representing the three gentlemen in question as they appeared performing their vigorous breach of decorum.

A NAPOLEONIC ROOSTER.—The 23d regiment of artillery in the French army has a white Cochin China rooster, upon which a great value is placed on account of his meritorious services on the field of battle. This cock passed through the whole of the campaign of the Rhine, and was carried to Augsburg as a prisoner of war. At Metz, during the siege, the soldiers, though obliged to eat their horses, held the life of this truly Gallic cock as sacred. At the battle of Gravelotte he was perched on the shoulders of his master, who was in the 4th battery, and was so used to the cannon's roar that he did not pay the slightest attention to it. After his master was killed another artillerist adopted him, and he still remains in the military service.

Civil Service Matters.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The Civil Service Advisory Board will meet the President and Cabinet to-morrow morning for the purpose of reporting an amendment to rules made in session during the past week and which requires Executive approval of the rules for examination and appointments.

EASTERN STATES.

The Latest Sensation—A Parricide.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Frank Walworth, who killed his father to-day, will be kept at the station house where he went and surrendered himself after the murder until after the inquest; and should the verdict be rendered against him he will be sent to the Tombs. He is about 19 years of age and treats the affair very lightly. He expresses no regret for the murder and terrible distress it will occasion his mother and family. At the time of his death Walworth was publishing a serial story in the New York Weekly and had another novel in press.

SARATOGA, June 3.—Frank Walworth who shot his father in New York City, left here yesterday morning without informing his mother of his intention. Mrs. Walworth lately received a number of threatening letters from her late husband, Manfield T. Walworth, and it is supposed that young Walworth intercepted similar letters to his mother from him, as she found in her son's room two empty envelopes to her address. Mrs. Walworth was divorced from her husband about two years ago.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The defense of young Walworth, who shot his father yesterday, will be insanity. The inquest will be held on Friday next. His mother visited him in the Tombs yesterday, in company with Judge Harbour, cousin of the deceased. While the scene was affecting it was not marked by any display of extraordinary emotion. Chas. O'Conor, the distinguished advocate, will be retained for the defense. He has had an interview with the prisoner.

Cholera in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, June 4.—For the past ten days a disease pronounced by physicians to be cholera morbus or malarial fever, has prevailed here, but no alarm has been felt until yesterday, when physicians generally agreed that it was cholera, some classing it as sporadic, others as Asiatic. Thus far its ravages have been confined to negroes and the laboring classes. In the absence of any organized board of health it is difficult to estimate the number who have died. The doctors say the disease will be promptly attended to yields readily to treatment. Among the victims was George Moore, of the Memphis and Louisville Transfer Company, who died last night. Reports from the river towns below here say the disease prevails there also. There is but little excitement here with regard to it.

Van Buren Writes Another Letter.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Gen. Van Buren has written another letter in which he says that a more rank example of outrage than the whole treatment of himself and family by the prosecution in the Commissioners' case could not be conceived of. Contracts for letting court-yard and for adding to machinery hall at Vienna, paid by commissioners out to have been given with an agreement that five per cent was to have been paid to the Commissioners. The letting charges of the job, were awarded by McKissick, who sits in judgment on the Managers' case. He will not say that charges made are based on [illegible]. Neither Minister Morgan shall we from him with impunity the spotless reputation of a life.

The Evil Murderer.

Carl Vogt, the alleged Berlin murderer, has been committed to Fort Columbus, pending argument on a writ of certiorari.

Rumors Concerning Modocs Denied.

THERE is no truth whatever in the report that the Cabinet has discussed the proper disposition to be made of the captured Modocs. The views of the different newspapers quoted by Sherman and Delano are probably based on well known differences between military and civil officers relative to the Indian question.

BAYONNE, June 3.—The Carlists who hold possession of the Northern Railway in Spain, have signed a convention by which resumption of railway traffic will be paralyzed, the Spanish authorities agreeing to the neutralization of the line from Miranda D'Ebro to the frontier. It is said that competent official authority has pronounced the order unconstitutional, and that Sheriff Adams will not shave the Chinamen's heads, or permit the operation to be performed on any person in his custody. It is highly probable that the Sheriff, or any officer trying to carry the order into effect, will be indicted in the U. S. Courts, or sued by victims for damages caused by the mutilation of queues.

The body of an infant was found this evening in the bay, tied up in a sack. The remains were in an advanced state of decomposition. In the same sack was the right hand of another child, which had been cut off just above the knee. The Coroner will try to solve the mystery in some way.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Salem, Oregon, June 4, 1873.

To the Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.: As to the Modoc outlaws now in custody of the United States military authorities, I most respectfully request that those now standing indicted in the Circuit Court of Jackson county, Oregon, for the crime of murder, who are not amenable to military execution, be delivered to the civil authorities of this State for trial and punishment if they have a legal defense, based either upon insanity or upon denial of identity, let the defense be pleaded before the proper tribunal. Will the Bulletin Explain?

By what course of reasoning the Bulletin reaches its conclusion that the success of the Republican party at the next State election depends upon the question whether a party ticket shall be run in the pending city election, we confess our utter inability to perceive. Over and over again we are told that if there is not a strict party ticket run and elected by the Republican party in this city election, the party in the State is to suffer terribly in consequence. Not a word is added as to how this effect is to be brought about. No reason is assigned for supposing that the result of the city election when there is understood to be no party question involved, will have any effect upon the State or county election. The only point that has ever yet appeared in the Bulletin's discussion of the question, from which to reason to the remarkable conclusion that paper arrives at, is in the following sentence from a long editorial article on the subject in yesterday's issue: "To what extent the politics of the State are controlled by Multnomah county every observer knows."

Every observer knows, in the first place, that the majorities in the State are not controlled by those in Multnomah county, any more than by those of Marion, or any other of the most populous counties of the State, and every observer also knows that the prestige of victory or defeat does not exist for either party, when there has been no party ticket in the field. Whatever effect the City elections may have heretofore had upon State elections, grew out of the moral influence of a party triumph. That effect has been so small as to be inappreciable. The County elections have always involved the selection of representatives and senators of the State, and the peculiar duties devolving upon these officers, have made it quite proper that they should be chosen upon a party ticket. In these elections, the members of both parties have always voted in accordance with their party nominations, and will, we suppose, continue to do so. Such elections influence the State elections, for they are part and parcel of it, and are, of course, partizan in their character. But how is a municipal election conducted solely with reference to such an administration of the government, as shall reduce taxation to its lowest possible rate, and when no party question is asked, to have the weighty effects upon the State election which the Bulletin describes. This is a question that every reasoning man will desire to see answered, before he can give his assent to the extraordinary proposition.

The tricks resorted to in former elections by the crowd of office holders who have assumed themselves to be the Republican party, are not forgotten by themselves any more than by the people of the city. They are already engaged in the business of colonizing votes for the election, picking up loose men wherever they can and putting them "where they will do the most good" on the day of election. Take this conversation, for instance, the first speaker being Mr. City Attorney Mulkey, and the other a gentleman who proved not to be just the sort of person he was taken for:

"I say, , suppose you change your boarding place to the Third Ward."

"I have a very good boarding place, and do not care to change it."

"If Ace will go up to the Third Ward, I'll pay your board for you for a few weeks."

"I don't quite stand why you should be so anxious to have me come up there, and as explanations are now in order, I hope you will explain."

"Well, to be frank with you, I want you in that ward; there is to be a city election soon."

"You have mistaken your man. I don't take stock in that sort of business. Git!"

Mr. Attorney did "git."

Proof of this conversation, so far as concerns the fact of an attempt to colonize, will be forthcoming if demanded.

A Washington special gives a very satisfactory definition of the plans of the Civil Service Advisory Board. At a meeting of the Cabinet with the new Board, in Washington, a few days since, Mr. Secretary Richardson briefly stated his views as gathered from practical experience at the head of the Department having the greatest number of employes in important positions. He suggested that in the matter of departmental work proper there should be an equitable distribution of appointments among the States according to population. The system of competitive examination as now employed should be continued and should be had with special regard to the ability of the contestants for the positions to be filled, to character and to education—in fine, it should be just what any gentleman at the head of a great house would do in the selection of employes. The Secretary was "glad to say that the system proposed by him did not contemplate any political interference." It is positively stated the foregoing plan will be adopted as the basis of the proposed reform.

Among the speakers at the recent St. Louis Congress was Mr. E. O. Stannard, whose happy art of mingling rhetoric and facts in due proportion is worthy of note. This gentleman expanded the regular theme "of the wonder of the age, this great and glorious country, where, ere the chanted vespers of her first declining century are heard, the voice of 40,000,000 proclaims from shore to shore her matchless achievements in art, civilization and commerce." Notwithstanding the vespers, Mr. S. was prone to admit that "corn brings the farmers of the West but 15 cents per bushel, but it is worth 65 cents in New York." Under these circumstances the "chanting" referred to is quite likely to degenerate into long and loud ululations against what Mr. S. terms "the exactions of transmical monopolies."

A Herald special says it is understood that Chief Justice Cockburn will reply to Caleb Cushing's book, and give his views of Adams and American Counsel at the Geneva Tribunal. The tone of the answer will be similar to that of Mr. Cushing's book. Cushing will again reply, and it is said by one of our Counsel at Geneva that Cushing has plenty of unused material with which to remind John Bull of the determination not to agree to the decision of a majority of the arbitrators. The only thing regretted by Cushing's associates, is his attempt to belittle Cockburn's ability.

A Troy dispatch of May 24th, announces the suspension of twelve firms all large dealers in lumber, who were ruined in an attempt to control the Northern lumber market. Their liabilities are stated at $3,000,000.

Mr Mitchell's Explanation.

We have forborne thus long to comment upon the explanation made by Senator Mitchell of the grave charges published against him through the Eastern press and mentioned by the papers of this coast, for the reason that we have feared anything we might say upon the subject would be misunderstood. The political differences well known to exist between us and him, will at once cause a liability of our being misunderstood in matter what we might say in the matter. The charges are such as in any community would properly be passed over in silence. The facts specifically stated are facts which no person can easily compromise the character of the Senator as a man, but the question whether or not they are true, a question in which every citizen of Oregon has the right to feel interested, and to expect the whole truth will be told. A generous people will permit great wrongs committed by private citizens, and small wrongs committed by public men, to be forgotten. But a community that has high ideas of the private virtue that ought to be regarded as the only true basis of public character, can never be induced to overlook facts so grave as these, in a person occupying so exalted a position as that of United States Senator. The State that would sink at such a life in her highest representative, as that which is alleged to have been the life of Senator Mitchell, could not reasonably hope long to retain the respect of her sister States. These reflections led to a conviction in our mind that it was a duty we owed the country to call attention to the charges against our Senator that he might at once contradict them, and it is alone in obedience to the same conviction that we now approach the painful subject a second time. We cannot but speak of it as a painful subject, for aside from those considerations which will readily present themselves to every mind why it is naturally painful, there are so many collateral circumstances connected with the case, that it is difficult to perceive how it is possible to do justice in one direction without doing injustice in another.

We trust our readers will believe us when we say it is far more nearly our desire to extenuate than to set down aught in malice, and that if our judgment is harsh we hope theirs will not be so.

Upon the only two specifications which Mr. Mitchell attempts to answer, namely, that of changing his name and that of carrying away moneys that did not belong to him, his explanation, it seems to us, in all candor, is singularly defective and incomplete. We confess to having felt greatly disappointed upon reading it, and our feeling in this regard is, so far as we can learn, the feeling of most, if not all, persons who express themselves upon the subject, whether they be the politest friends of the Senator or not. The charge that he has been traveling under an assumed name for all the years he has been in Oregon is admitted by him to be true. His explanation is that he had domestic misfortunes in his native State of Pennsylvania. We recollect no other instance of such an effect from such a cause. It is not necessarily a crime to have domestic misfortunes, indeed, we do not consider that even a presumption of crime, legal or social, attaches to such a misfortune. We cannot therefore see any sufficient reason in this for a change of name. The object was, upon his own showing, to deceive the people with whom he might afterwards be associated. This change of name is mentioned by Mr. Mitchell as an "indiscreet, ill-advised and injudicious act, a great blunder and a foolish mistake." This certainly is the most charitable view of it. It is no palliation that the name assumed was, as he says it was, the maiden name of his mother. The deception was no less than it would have been if any other name had been assumed.

Nor was his manner of leaving the country such as to remove the presumption that the change of name naturally raises in the mind.

As to the other matter upon which his explanation touches, he is, if possible, still more unsatisfactory. The charge was that he had taken money that did not belong to him, and for which his law partner was responsible. This charge is met by the statement of Mr. Mitchell that he did no "dishonest act," and by the dispatch of his partner who only says, on this point.

No man in Pennsylvania ever lost a cent by you. Every cent was paid in full.

It would have been so very easy for Mr Mitchell to have said directly that he did not take the money, and for his partner Col. Thompson to have said the same thing; and how infinitely more satisfactory to the public as well as more definite. Had this been done, the matter would have been set at rest, and there would have been no necessity for anything further on this point. Mr W. S. Purviance, it is true, denies the charge more specifically, but he was not a party to the transaction referred to, and is not shown to have known anything at all about it. Mr. Mitchell and Col. Thompson are the two persons who alone could speak of the matter from actual knowledge.

And yet those who claim to have known Mr Mitchell well in Pennsylvania, express their confidence in his personal honesty and integrity in the most unequivocal terms. Certainly the good opinion of a man's neighbors ought to weigh something in his favor. How much it should weigh depends, of course, upon all the circumstances of the case. While we wish to say nothing against the certificates presented by Mr. Mitchell, we cannot overlook the fact that it is naturally easier for a United States Senator to obtain such testimonials than it would be for an obscure though equally meritorious individual. Nor can we forget the many instances wherein persons of previously unblemished character have suddenly discovered traits that surprised their most intimate acquaintances.

Whether the perturbed state of mind in which Mr Mitchell says he was laboring when he left Pennsylvania, is sufficient to explain all his conduct then and all that followed, consistently with virtuous and honorable purposes it is for every man to judge. We do not at present care to impress any opinion we may entertain on the subject upon people who are quite as well qualified to judge of the case as we are.

The Bulletin charges Henry Failing, Esq., the nominee of the Committee of Twenty-seven, for Mayor, with having on one occasion some years since resigned the office of Mayor. We had not supposed the resignation of an office was a very grave offense. We think it would not be difficult to mention some high officers who would benefit themselves and their constituency by committing the crime charged against Mr Failing.

The Bulletin seems to think it is necessary to remark that the names signed to the call for a party ticket in the city election, were "all signed by the persons owning them." Whose names are the people who are taking so deep an interest in that movement, accustomed to sign, we should like to know.

Something about Pumps.

OFFICE OF WM. F. MORRIS,
Walnut St., Philadelphia, April 1, 1873.

Editors: An article published in the Portland of March 8th, was sent to me some weeks since, which alleged a "grave error in my "estimate of the capacity of the Worthington Pumping Engine" in the present water works of your city, that "the pump having two 24 inch cylinders" Mr. M. erected his engine and pumps to make only eight strokes per minute, thus making the capacity 1,000 gallons per day when it should have been 1,584,000 gallons.

I beg to say that I did not omit to multiply by two, but that I counted each pump to make sixty strokes per minute and multiplied this by two to arrive at the number—viz: 120 to be made by the Worthington Pumping engine per minute. And this number—one hundred strokes per minute, as the number to be made by both pumps taken together, is quite as many as is prudent or safe to be made by such a machine. It is a grave error, and would be a very costly one to your city or the owners of the machinery, to double this velocity, and require four pumps to make one hundred strokes per minute.

To ascertain what is the capacity of the Worthington Duplex Engine, as estimated by the builders, I wrote to the manufacturers of the machine and have their answer, both of which letters I inclose.

"W. E. Morris to H. R. Worthington & Co.—Dear Sir: Please give me information upon the following points. Using your high pressure Duplex Pumping Engines, with water plunger 12 inches in diameter, and making 14 inch stroke and raising water about 170 feet, what is the proper economical velocity for continuous day and night running, and what in ordinary practice is it safe to estimate its actual daily delivery, and what the present price in New York?"

"New York, April 3, 1873.

"Mr. Worthington to Wm. E. Morris—Dear Sir: I have a pattern of non condensing Duplex Engine, 20 inch steam cylinder and 12 inch plungers, 10 inch stroke, displacement—7 gallons per single stroke of one plunger; fair speed on 170 feet head, say 80 single strokes, or 20 revolutions of both plungers per minute—say 700,000 gallons in twenty four hours. Price, $3,000—5 per cent off for cash. Yours, &c., H. R. WORTHINGTON."

The above description coincides with the dimensions of the pump chambers of the Worthington Pumping Engine at Portland, but the builders give eighty strokes per minute, when I allowed one hundred, and a capacity per day of 700,000 gallons, when I allowed 940,000 gallons. It is thus shown that my report does more than justice to the present works, and in estimating their value to the city, it might be proper to consider the capacity of the Worthington Engine as given by the manufacturer in place of that given by me, though in my experience his engines always do more than he claims for them. I remain very truly,

WM. E. MORRIS, Engineer.

Allopathy and Homœopathy have at last tried conclusions in Boston, and the latter of the twain comes forth from the contest with rumpled linen and a notable laissez nous faire look, to which may be added a professional optic badly bruised. The recent trial of certain members of the Massachusetts Medical Society for practising the art of infinitesimals in violation of their right to membership, has resulted in the verdict annexed, which is, perhaps, as fair a specimen of the length to which an intolerant spirit of professional jealousy may be carried, as can be found on record.

The parties having been fully heard and evidence and arguments on each side fully considered, we do find and determine that said charges and specifications are all fully proved against each of the said accused persons, and they are severally guilty of the charges aforesaid—guilty of conduct unbecoming and unworthy an honorable physician by practising homœopathy—and we, therefore, adjudge and determine that said William Bushnell, Milton Fuller, H. L. H. Hoffendahl, George Russell, J. T. Talbot, Davis Thayer, Benjamin A. West, be therefore expelled from their membership of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and report this our determination, to the Massachusetts Medical Society, at its annual meeting, for such action thereupon as to the Society may seem fit.

A Little Rock (Ark.) dispatch of May 24th gives partial explanation of the new plague spot which has appeared in Arkansas politics. Brooks, the defeated candidate for Governor, made application for a writ of quo warranto, and yesterday's dispatches informed us that the Attorney-General of the State had filed the same, requiring Governor Baxter to show by what authority he holds the office of Governor. Brooks is persuaded that both Governor Baxter and Lieutenant-Governor Smith will be ousted from office, in which event he expects to be seated. It is also said that McClure (of whom we have old-time memory), takes matters to heart very seriously, and in a recent conversation stated that either he or Baxter must fall, that one or the other must be the recognized leader of the Republican party in Arkansas. Baxter, on hearing these words of McClure repeated, said: "Yes, I heartily concur in this—either McClure or I must fall." This seems to be a fair illustration of the intensity of the hate existing between the two factions.

Some of the continental papers assert that Father Hyacinthe is steadily and surely drifting into Protestantism. A special dispatch to the London Daily News from Geneva, says Father Hyacinthe, in his sermons in that city, attacks the confessional and celibacy. He also urges the election of their priests by the people, and the use of the Bible and liturgy in the national language.

THE EXCURSION.—To-day the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society go on which their picnic and basket pic held. Yesterday the weather was very threatening aspect, and the general opinion was that the picnic would be postponed for a fair day, but the Committee were determined to have the picnic, "rain or shine." Therefore, at the conclusion of the Committee's meeting, it was decided that the O. S. N. Co's steamer Oregonia will leave the O. S. N. Co's dock at foot of Stark street, at 8:30 sharp for Harmony Grove, instead of 8 o'clock as above announced. Should the weather prove stormy a large barge will be towed to the grove by the steamer for the accommodation of the ladies, and the boat, instead of going to Harmony Grove, will continue on up the Willamette to the Oswego grounds, and will continue on up the river to the Falls, if the weather and the boat, instead of going to Harmony Grove, will continue on up the Willamette to the Oswego grounds, and will continue on up the river to the Falls, if the weather and the state of the river will permit. The grounds at Oswego are extensive and complete and entertainment of every description will be provided, so that in the event the weather will not permit a visit to Harmony Grove, the excursionists will experience no disappointment, but will have the pleasure of a delightful excursion to Oswego, with every convenience on that account. The committee of arrangements have been engaged, and nothing will be left undone by them to make the picnic a success. Every member of the committee will be present, and will contribute in every manner contribute to the pleasure of the occasion. THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 5, 1873.

CITY.

THE EXCURSION.—To-day has been fixed by the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society as the one on which their picnic and excursion will be held. Yesterday the weather presented a lower log-point, and the general outlook was unfavorable for a fair day, but the Society having completed all arrangements were determined to hold their picnic, "rain or shine." That being the decision of the Committee, the steamer Oneonta will leave the O. S. N. Co's wharf this morning at 8:30 sharp for Harmony Grove, on the Columbia above Vancouver. Should the day, however, prove stormy, a large barge will be taken in tow by the steamer for the accommodation of dancers, and the boat, instead of stopping at the picnic ground, will continue on up the Columbia to the Cascades, and return to the city in the evening. Ample and extensive are the arrangements, so complete and extensive are the arrangements, that in the event the weather proves inclement, the excursionists will experience no particular inconvenience on that account. ANNUAL GRAND MEETING.—Mrs. A. J. Dunniway has issued an invitation from the managers of the grove meeting in progress this week at Wilson's Station, to lecture on Saturday next upon "The Moral Need of the Enfranchisement of Women." We anticipate the lectures of this talented lady will be full of thought and instruction to the people with subjects at once novel and interesting.

A WELL-KNOWN GAME.—A gentleman from Astoria tells us that the person who it was supposed had the small pox, and on whose account the Rev. Jesse L. Stratton was detained, turns out to be afflicted with that loathsome disease. If this is true, the precautions taken by the Health officer, and which a correspondent has so highly commended, were well timed.

ANNIVERSARY.—The meeting last evening Cushing Post, Grand Army of the Republic, was made to the ladies who contributed flowers to the Post on Decoration Day. The members of the Post are invited to the Armory and Rooms of the Portland Guard, of this city, for their anniversary on the 7th by inviting the members of the association.

BOUGHT AN INTEREST.—Mr. M. P. Robbins, a well known citizen of Yamhill county, who has been a resident for several years at McMinnville, has removed to this city at that time since. He has purchased an interest in the fish packing store of A. Ferguson & Co., and proposes to make Portland his future home.

THE WORK OF DESTRUCTION.—In our excursion of day before yesterday up the Columbia and Willamette rivers, 740 boxes were brought down. These were now deposited on the O. S. N. Co.'s Company's wharf. They will be put on the Idaho, which will sail on Saturday.

WE ARE TOLD.—In consequence of the unfinished state of repairs now being made to the steamer Ajax, that steamer will not leave her wharf this week for the Upper Willamette, as previously announced.

FISH.—Fish continue to arrive in large quantities from down the river. The steamer Oneonta brought up last evening 400 cans and 82 boxes of salmon, which will be shipped to San Francisco.

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

To the Tax Payers of the City of Portland—GREETING: Know all men and women by these presents that I, Mrs. A. J. Duniway, of Portland, Oregon, being of lawful age and a naturalized born citizen of the United States, and finding how difficult it is to prevail upon gentlemen to accept city offices, and being also somewhat of a philanthropist, respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the ensuing term, subject to the decision of the Republican Nominating Committee, who represent a party that is pledged to give the "demands of women for additional rights respectful consideration."

In taking this step I have counseled with nobody, and consulted nothing but the United States and Oregon State Constitutions, and the platform of the Republican party. To the required rules and usages of a Republican form of Government I promise, if elected, to strictly conform.

Respectfully submitted by the tax payers' obedient servant,

MRS. A. J. DUNIWAY.

MR. MEEK'S STATEMENT.

Courtney Meek sends us a statement in regard to his arrest at Lewiston recently on a charge of burglary by breaking into the commissary store at Lapwai, which he desires to have published in order that he may not be misunderstood in that matter. He says: The simple facts are these: That when the U. S. Attorney came over to Lewiston he came to see me, and stated that he had learned that others were implicated in the matter, and he desired to try them for it, as those men had stolen the property from me, and that I could take State's evidence honorably, as all my friends wished me to do the same. I would not have done it, only my witnesses of Troop E, of the First U. S. Cavalry, were ordered away and I had to do otherwise. As for the charge that was brought against me, I am not guilty, as fully half a dozen soldiers of the U. S. Army will testify.

COURTNEY W. MEEK.

BASE BALL.

On Tuesday evening the Pacific Base Ball Club held a meeting. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, R. Cushing; Vice President, A. Bell; Secretary, W. Henderson; Treasurer, W. Mathews. Directors—H. Cushing, A. Raleigh and E. Deady. Captain first nine, R. H. Austin; Second, C. Carter. This evening the Pioneers will practice so as to be in readiness to meet the contest of Saturday with the Pacifics.

If you want the woven wire bed, parlor and bedroom suits, the best spring and pure hair mattresses, go to Hurgren & Shindler.

The public mind has been somewhat agitated with the Modoc war, an occasional marine or railway disaster, and the dull times, and the prospect of buying clothing at a figure not large enough to clear a man to the bedrock. The place has been found where you can buy men and boy's clothing, or gentlemen's furnishing goods, at the very lowest prices. It is at Beck & Waldmann's, corner of Front and Washington street, where a full assortment of men and boys' clothing, in the latest styles, can be selected from.

Mr. John Kennedy, formerly of the Philadelphia Shoe Store, is now at the San Francisco Shoe Store with Fleischner & Crone, where he will be pleased to wait upon his friends and customers, with one of the largest and finest stocks of boots and shoes on the coast. He will also continue to take measures for ladies' custom-made shoes.

DRESS WELL.—The young man who desires his "make-up" complete should always select the place where the articles desired can be obtained. For a neat-fitting suit, made of the very finest materials, the public is directed to the house of Fisher & Roberts, an establishment which ranks with the leading houses on the coast. The stock is complete the attention paid to customers, and the promptness with which orders are filled, at once commends this house to all.

The man of enterprise creates, the weak imitator tries to copy him. Does any sensible man suppose that the legions of "Buchus," so-called, that infest the drug stores, possess the real merit of Dr. Helmbold's Genuine Extract? Any sufferer from Kidney Complaint, Dropsy, Diabetes, or other urinary diseases, in adult or female, will detect the difference at once by the results. Helmbold's cures, the others fail. The genuine bears D. Helmbold's signature. John E. Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

If you want pure, fine liquors of any kind, go to E. D. Tyne's, northwest corner of Oak and First streets, agent for the sale of Jessie Moore & Co.'s fine Old Bourbon and Rye Whiskies of Louisville, Ky.

It is often remarked by strangers visiting our Stock that we show a larger proportion of good horses than any other State in the Union. This, we tell them, is owing to two principal reasons. In the first place, we breed the very best stock; and in the second place, our people use Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which in their judgment are of incalculable advantage.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The annual Commencement exercises of the Tualatin Academy and Pacific University were held yesterday. In making mention of these exercises, it may not be uninteresting to state that for a week previous public oral examinations were held in both College and Academy. The number of visitors was not as large as might have been expected, but, taken altogether, the pupils satisfied the well understood requirements of their teachers and also their own aspirations. Every class reciting during the last term was examined in its respective studies. On the Sunday following examination week, President Marsh preached the customary Baccalaureate Sermon to the graduating class. His theme was "True Wisdom," chosen from the words "Be ye wise as serpents and harmless as doves." The sermon was attended and listened to by a large audience, especially the class to whom the words were particularly addressed, and will, doubtless, be long remembered and treasured up. Tuesday evening the annual address before the Literary Societies of the University—the Philomathean, Gamma Sigma and the Alpha Zeta Alpha—was delivered by the Rev. J. H. Eaton, of this city. His subject was "Haste and Sordidness in Education." A more practical, useful and pleasing address has seldom been made, was the universal comment of those whose pleasure it was to be present on the occasion. The exercises of the evening were opened by a short voluntary sung from the choir, followed by a prayer by Dr. Marsh. After prayer, the choir sang an excellent glee, and the closing one was, if possible, the best of all. The benediction closed the exercises of the evening. At 11 o'clock on Wednesday, the orations and essays of the graduating class commenced. An Anthem, "Joy to the World, the Lord is Come," followed the opening prayer. Mr. W. D. Lyman then delivered an excellent oration of a somewhat logical character. Mr. Wm R Bilyeu spoke next on the subject of "Free Trade" with which he showed himself evidently familiar, and his easy manner of speaking gave increased interest to it. Miss Sarah J. Lyman next read a most instructive essay to which the audience listened attentively. Mr. L. C. Walker then delivered an oration which was evidently a production of great study. Miss Mary Goodsell read a pleasing and useful essay on the subject of "Charlotte Bronte." The anthem, "Oh! that men would praise the Lord," followed, after which the degrees were conferred by Dr. Marsh—Bachelor of Art, on Walker, Bachelor of Science, on Bilyeu and Lyman, and Mistress of Science on Misses Lyman and Goodsell. Directly after the benediction the Alumni met. A number of former graduates was present and no doubt gave pleasure by their presence in the Alumni meeting, made a lengthy report, showing that for the printing done by order of the Council last year, at the bids submitted, that of the OREGONIAN would be the lower.

Councilman Moreland moved to lay the report on the table. The motion was lost. Ayes—Councilmen Besser, Congle and Moreland. Noes—Councilmen Burton, Hallock and Russell. Councilman Hill asked to be and was excused from voting.

Councilman Hallock moved that the report be adopted. Councilman Hill asked to be excused from voting. A motion to excuse the Councilman was carried. Ayes—Councilmen Besser, Congle, Moreland and Russell. Noes—Councilmen Burton and Hallock, Councilman Hill not voting.

The motion to adopt the report was lost—ayes, Councilmen Burton, Hallock and Russell, noes, Councilmen Besser, Congle and Moreland—Councilman Hill not voting.

Councilman Besser moved that the matter be referred back to the Auditor, and that he be instructed to report which would be the lower bid, not considering the semi-annual publication of the Auditor's report. The motion was seconded by Councilman Congle.

Councilman Hallock moved to amend by instructing the Auditor to amend his report so as to make the Bulletin's bid the lowest, but the motion received no second.

The motion by Councilman Besser prevailed—ayes, Councilmen, Besser, Congle, Moreland and Russell; noes, Councilmen Burton and Hallock—Councilman Hill not voting.

PLANS FOR SEWAGE.

The Committee on Streets and Public Property submitted the plans designed by R. A. Habersham, for a system of sewage, together with a report of Mr. Habersham to said Committee, recommending what is known as the "Brooklyn System." The report was partially read and ordered printed in the OREGONIAN and Bulletin.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

The following bills against the city were ordered paid: W. S. Halpruner, $260; Portland Gas Light Co., two bills, $552 80; E. Hendrie, $395 36; J. H. Butler, two bills, $32; Northrup & Thompson, two bills, $8; Geo. A. Steel & Co., $9; J. D. Drew & Co, $20 59. S. J. McCormick's bill for $7 50, for stationery ordered by the Auditor, was also paid. S. J. M'Cormick's bill for stamped envelopes, $5 25, was referred to the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses. The bill of Enoch Newsome for $23 72, for removing dead chickens, rats, dogs, etc., was referred to the Committee on Health and Police. The bill of W. S. Halpruner for $30, for erecting a street lamp in place of one broken down by a horse belonging to C. Grich, was ordered paid, and the City Auditor was instructed to commence an action against Mr. Grich to recover the amount.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance to prevent Chinese being employed on city contracts, presented by the Committee on River Improvements, was read a first and second time, and laid over.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman Russell, to preserve health and prevent disease, was read a first and second time.

An ordinance to establish certain grades on Columbia street, west of Ninth street, was read a third time and passed.

An ordinance authorizing the letting of contracts for building an Engine House for Tiger Co. No. 5 was read a third time and passed.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Committee on Fire and Water was instructed to report at the next meeting of the Council on the Report of the Chief Engineer asking for an alarm bell for the Fire Department, and also on the proposition of the Lutheran Church to sell their bell to the city.

A petition by Messrs. Hanley & Hall, stating that they had furnished a scow for the use of the Fire Department on the occasion of the fire of Dec. 22, 1872, and that their services in watching, and the use of the boat, were reasonably worth $75, and asking that the city pay them that sum, was read and referred to a special committee, consisting of, Councilmen Hill, Caywood and Besser.

On motion the Council adjourned.

FASHIONABLE NOTES.

Powdered hair is again in fashion. Blonde and white are the favorite styles.

Bonnets and jockeys are now suspended at some distance over the wearer's head.

Colored linen is coming in vogue again among young ladies for collars and cuffs.

A satirist says that modern society misses two "lost arts"—conversation and blushing.

Imitation gold jewelry among ladies has gone out, and we hope will never come in again.

Materials formed of alternate stripes of satin and velvet are very fashionable for skirts.

Young married ladies wear a neat little face breakfast cap, tied with gray colored ribbons.

Ladies' vests for evening wear are made with low, rolling collars to show the embroidery on the bosom.

Colored ribbons about the neck, with a bow in front with diamonds thereon, are much worn in full dress.

The best way to get just the right tangle on the hair, is to fill it full of cornmeal and let the chickens scratch it out.

The Livingstone is the leading scarf. It is a modified Windsor. The fashionable colors are bronze, slate and pale café au lait.

Silk pocket handkerchiefs, white and in pale tints, with dark-colored borders and figured with jacquard effects, are late novelties.

The "Lady Washington" is the newest thing in polonaises. It has two very short points in front, and the apron meets at the back just below the waist.

Our fashionable ladies are now covering their foreheads with a mass of little curls and jumbled-up hair, not at all becoming and suggestive only of negligence.

The New York Tribune's Vienna correspondent is very severe in his criticism of the Van Buren Commission. The temporary Commission has gone to work with a will and the American department is assuming shape.

But the negligence of the original Commission in not claiming our space in proper time, has left an irremediable defect in our arrangement, by having sacrificed the whole of the exhibiting space in the nave of the building, our hold thus being simply the lobby which admits to the building from the west. When the Emperor in his tour of the building on opening day came to the end of the English show, he turned back, seeing nothing beyond, and supposed that he was in the American department; but on being informed that there was plus ultra, returned and examined with interest the few articles exhibited, receiving our Commissioners' explanations with more satisfaction than the American people is likely to, I imagine.

Be true to your Teeth and they will be true to you. Never will you need false ones, if you use the SOZODONT morning and evening. It imparts indestructibility to the enamel, keeps it white and spotless, and wonderfully improves the breath. 1y2

COLEMANS EUCALYPTUS

Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medicinal qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medicinal utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundred of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 415 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarial fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies for these diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1 lb bottles. Beware of imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by Hodge, Calef & Co., Wholesale Druggists, Portland, Sole Agents for Oregon.

The Blighted Flowers.

She slept, and the dream of heaven,
With its beautiful surprise,
Had folded the silken lashes,
And softened the tender eyes
And the peace which passeth knowledge,
Lay like a ring of light,
Fresh from the hand of the crowner
On her brow, outlined and white,

She lay while we led the loiterers,
Dear drifts of odorous snow
On the breast whose thoughts were whiter
Than millions of flowers that blow.
But the lily dropped its petals
In vain on the upturned face,
And the rose-buds unclasped not
From the sleep of their folded grace.

Unfelt were the blighted kisses
Of the flowers that leaned on her brow,
And she who had yearned for their coming
Neglected to praise them now!
She sighted the dainty odors
Of violets, pallid and sweet,
That lay like a track of beauty,
From the brow to the unshod feet!

And she uttered no word of chiding
When we crushed a rose in our hold;
So we knew by these silent tokens
She had gone to the unknown land
Then we kissed the hand on her forehead,
And gathered a tress to keep,
And then with the rest of the flowers,
We left her to silence and sleep.

The Bowen-Beecher Scandal.

Mr. Beecher has at last opened his lips to speak, very briefly, of a matter intimately connected with the terrible scandal which has clouded his fair fame for a year or more. Our recently dispatches contain a card from him, in which he denies that Mr. Henry C. Bowen originated the alleged slander. The annexed, taken from a New York dispatch of May 30th, will throw additional light on the recent disclosures.

The custodian of the convenant entered into April 2d, 1872, by Henry Ward Beecher, Theodore Tilton and Henry C. Bowen, made that instrument public this morning, assigning as a reason therefor the fact that Bowen has of late repeatedly declared that he had never disavowed his charges against Beecher, but yet insisted on their truth. The disavowal to which is attached the signatures of the above-named, opens thus: "We three men earnestly design to remove all causes of offense existing between us, real or fancied, and to make Christian reparation for injuries done or supposed to be done, and to efface the disturbed past, and to provide concord, good will and love for the future, do declare and convenant Henry C. Bowen, then disavowing all charges and imputations attributed to him as made by him against Beecher, and declares without reserve that he knows nothing which should prevent him from extending to Beecher his most cordial friendship, confidence and Christian fellowship, in reciting sincerely that he had made any imputations, charges or innuendoes unfavorable to the Christian character of Beecher, and promising never in future to recur to them by word or deed. Theodore Tilton avows that he will never again repeat by word of mouth, or otherwise, any allegation, imputation or innuendo contained in his letter to Bowen, in which he [illegible] the charges of the allegations, etc., against the moral Christian character of Beecher. Beecher, on his part, puts the past forever out of sight and memory, and says, "I deeply regret the causes of suspicion, jealousy and estrangement which have come between us; and it is joy to me to have my old regard for Henry C. Bower and Theodore Tilton restored, and happiness to me to [illegible] the old position of love, respect and reverence to and both of them. If I have done anything injurious to the reputation of either of them, I [illegible] from them sending my [illegible] as Christian gentlemen and members of my family, I [illegible] all, and heartily convey to [illegible] and reinstate them to the extent of [illegible]."

The custodian of the convenant says the public are [illegible] the grave silence which the great preacher has kept under the protracted storm of slander. He had convenanted to bury the past in mutual peace and brotherhood. The document is given to the world to stop and convict the principal offender against truth, public decency, and [illegible].

To properly note [illegible] the Beecher scandal, which Suffolk's just published statement started, it should be remembered that Bowen is proprietor of the Brooklyn Union; also of the Independent, a religious journal, of which Beecher and Theodore Tilton were the principal [illegible]. He appears to [illegible] whether [illegible] in such [illegible] publications by the [illegible] Woodhull & Claflin. Bowen's supposed motive was Beecher's abandonment of the Independent, and assuming the [illegible] of its successful rival, the Christian Union. Failing, in July, 1871, to [illegible] Beecher by means of a fulsome letter demanding the abolition of his pulpit, Bowen, according to Tilton, threatened the latter with disgrace both in the Daily Union and the Independent if Tilton should ever inform Beecher of Bowen's scandalous statements or compel him (Bowen) to produce the evidence on which they were based. Tilton, refusing to pledge silence, was instantly dismissed. In April, 1872, Bowen, Tilton and Beecher jointly signed the agreement making up all the differences, in which Bowen explicitly retracted all his charges as not well founded. Tilton disavowed what he had repeated on Bowen's authority, and Beecher revoked anything unkind he had said of the two who had defamed him, charitably agreeing to forgive and forget. The arrangement is entirely creditable to Beecher's Christian character and magnanimity. The quietest matters until a few months ago, when Mrs. [illegible], of the Brooklyn Park, was notoriously involved in a scandal with the wife of an intimate friend. Bowen's paper, the Brooklyn Union, assailing Kinsella, the latter retorted on Bowen upon his Beecher scandals. Bowen's rejoinder implied more or less a direct denial that he had ever disavowed or retracted the statements against Beecher. Since Suffolk's publication, which leaves Bowen irretrievably in the wrong, Beecher's friends rejoice greatly at this [illegible] are of his vindication, hitherto supposed [illegible] in charity to this self-confessed slanderer.

TOBACCO UNDER CONTROL.—Take the use of tobacco for instance. I will not enter into the vexed questions why it is that tobacco has entered so largely into the life as well of the civilized as of the savage races of the world. I have no question that it is a great luxury, and that in extreme cases it may be a necessary sedative. None the less is the appetite for tobacco an appetite which a man wants to have under control. He wants, therefore, to know if it is his master or his slave. That is the reason why he owes it to his own royalty to cut off his tobacco at certain regular periods, resolutely and absolutely, to see if he can do without it without whimpering or sighing. His condition is, it is true, not unlike that of the Frenchman at the savings bank. When they gave him his money he said, "Ah, if you have got it I do not want it. I asked for it because I was afraid you had not got it." I anticipate the joke, because I am eager to say that the bank was all the better bank because it was liable to be called on by such people for their money. If you find, my dear Raleigh, that your hour after dinner is wretched, now that you have cut off your cigar, that you abuse your children and scold your wife, it is because you were becoming the slave of an appetite. It is certainly high time that you proclaimed independence. You will never compass what a man has to compass in life until you have mastered this little devil; got your foot on his chest and your sword in his throat, as St. Michael would have his. If, on the other hand, you go through the tobacco-less month with a temper unsullied, and life as even as before, I see no objection to your taking up your Manuel Amores again, and playing with him as with any other plaything till the next time of testing comes.—E. E. Hale.

CIRCUMNAVIGATION.—After a voyage of 52,000 miles, taking 498 days' sailing, the British ship Zealous has just returned to England. She was dispatched in 1865, by way of the Straits of Magellan, for the Pacific, to become the flag ship of the squadron. She is believed to be the largest ship that ever passed through the intricate straits, and, in passing, ran upon a rock off the Land of Fuego. After being relieved from duty in the Pacific, she proceeded homeward by the way of Cape of Good Hope. It is stated that the captain is to publish a history of the round voyage, which ought to make an interesting book.

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND:

The Portland Water Company take this method of defining their position on the purchase of their works by the city of Portland:

On the 25th day of April, 1872, this company received a communication from Messrs. W. S. Ladd, J. B. Congle, C. H. Lewis and S. G. Reed, sub committee on water supply, appointed by the Mayor, asking the question:

"Will you dispose of your works to the city of Portland and if so, you will state price, terms, etc."

Our answer was, we would sell, and the price, three hundred thousand dollars, to be paid as specified

Again, the Committee on Fire and Water called on us at our office, saying they came in accordance with a resolution passed by the Common Council, on the 5th of February, to confer with us as to the purchase of our works by the city, to ascertain the price, and report to the Council at their earliest convenience. This company named the same price, viz $300,000, that had been named to the former committee, two hundred and forty thousand dollars cash, and the city to assume the payment of sixty thousand dollars our [illegible] bonds, bearing seven per cent interest, payable in July, 1880.

The committee made their report to the Common Council on the evening of February 18, 1873, from which report we copy the latter portion, viz:

We have been permitted to examine the income of the Water Company for the years 1870, 1871 and 1872, from rents of water, and from them we learn that the receipts would pay the interest on the bonds, the cost of operating the works, and have a considerable surplus, while the rents could be lowered one-fourth the present rates, and still pay rents sufficient to pay interest and cost of operating; thus giving to our citizens cheaper water, which is a matter greatly to be desired.

The increase of population in the city will increase the rents, and cheaper rates will increase the takers, without corresponding increase in the cost of operating, and in the no distant future your Committee believe that the rates can be reduced to one-half the present rates, and still leave a sufficient revenue to pay the interest on the bonds and cost of operating, while a small sum can be annually accumulating to form a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds

Under the provisions of our charter nothing can be done in the way of incurring an indebtedness sufficient to purchase or build Water Works by the city until the proposition is submitted to the people at a general election, and by them approved.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the proposition of the Portland Water Company for the sale of their Works, rights, &c., &c., be submitted to the people at the coming June election, as provided by charter, for their approval or rejection.

All of which is respectfully submitted

(Signed) J. B. CONGLE,
J. C. MORRILAND,
Committee on Fire and Water.

The Portland Water Company would respectfully state to the tax-payers the fact, that they have not urged the city to purchase our works. We have simply answered in good faith communications from committees appointed by the Mayor and Common Council of this city, as we supposed in good faith on the part of the city, and as a continuance of our willingness to give to the tax payers and the public any information they may desire, in order that they may vote intelligently at the coming June election for or against the purchase of our works by the city, we submit the following abstract from our books for two years, with the probable rates for one year:

The city can run the works, reduce the rates 25 per cent., and leave a balance in favor of the city of six thousand, five hundred and twenty dollars; or, in other words, consumers that now pay $2 per month, can be supplied for $1 50 per months and others in proportion; and still the city will receive a revenue without taxing the people for a water supply.

Any further information desired in relation to the Company's works will be freely given on application at their office.

Respectfully,
THE PORTLAND WATER COMPANY.
H. D. GREEN, President.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, June 4, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 112⅝

Portland Legal Tender rates, 88 buying; 89 selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 900 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, 12s 2d@12s 4d; club, 12s 6d.

Dispatches from New York indicate a much more settled state in the money market, and it is not expected that we will have any further serious fluctuations, at least before the turn into the Fall season. Many claiming foresight in financial matters, predict a close money market, especially on this coast, next season, as it is probable we will have nearly as large a crop of grain to move as last year, and that movement must be made, in a great measure, by capital furnished in our midst. All of that expended last year in that direction, has not returned as rapidly to the ordinary channels of commerce, as was expected, and when enough is drawn off to move this year's crop, the assumption that a state of stringency will be the result, is not at all an unreasonable theory. Unless we have the benefit of foreign capital, prudence would seem to dictate that business men prepare for so probable a contingency.

A Fine Ship

San Francisco will soon be able to boast of one of the finest clipper ships in the world, and the largest except one. She is the old U. S. steamship Vanderbilt, lately purchased by George Howes & Co, and thoroughly overhauled and changed into a clipper. Sheets to be called the Three Brothers. The Commercial Herald says: "This noble specimen of American naval architecture now lies at the dry dock, Hunter's Point, and is rapidly undergoing the change from a steamer to a sailing craft. Her upper works have been raised fourteen inches, and a handsome shear given to her which just suits the eye of a critial sailor. Her entire frame is fire-oak and locust, sound as a pump bolt, and heavily fastened in every direction. Walks of Oregon fir in planks 75 feet long and 9 inches thick, are being laid on and secured with a perfect forest of locust tree nails and copper bolts. From the plank-shear to her bends, she is 2½ feet thick, solid wood and below that line her thickness is three feet. Her deck planks will be four by four inch finest Oregon pine, each strip not less than sixty feet long, and free from blemish. Her dimensions are 321 feet in length, over all, 47 feet 6 inches beam, 21 feet 6 inches depth, and her measurement 3,500 tons, new style, with a carrying capacity of nearly 5,000 tons. The mainmast is a wonder of beauty. It is 95 feet 6 inches long, and 44 inches in diameter at the deck, without a single knot or flaw of any description. It is of Oregon pine, as are all her masts. The main topmast is 56 feet 6 inches long, and 20 inches diameter in the cap, and the main topgallant, royal and skysail masts are in one piece, 70 feet long. These dimensions will be duplicated in the forward spars, except that the foremast will be three feet shorter than the main. Her mainyard is 100 feet long and 29 inches in slings; lower main topsail yard, 87 feet long and 20 inches in slings; upper topsail yard, 78 feet long and 18 inches in slings; top-gallantyard, 65 feet long and 13½ inches in slings; royal yard, 41 feet long and 11 inches in slings; and skysail yard, 33 feet long and 9 inches in slings. These will be duplicated on the foremast. Her bowsprit is 50 feet in length and 40 inches diameter at night-heads; jibboom, 60 feet long and 14 inches in cap. This length includes the flying jibboom the two being one stick. She will be furnished with wire rigging and every improvement known in marine science. She will probably be ready for the sea some time in October. In reason for the next launch, and when completed will be as fine a clipper as ever passed the Golden Gate or graced the ocean.

New York Losing Her Grip on the Grain Trade

From the St. Louis Democrat.

New York city seems destined to lose its grasp on the grain trade of the West unless she establishes some grain propellers to ply between the Missouri river and her own ports. The people of Great Britain seem determined to snatch this vast trade from her and transfer it to Toronto. Canadian operators of unlimited means are purchasing grain in the Chicago market. It is known common thing for them to order 200 or 300 cars of Wheat or Corn at one time, and the greater part of the sales now making in Chicago for shipment, are in behalf of Canadians, and the grain is destined for England via the St. Lawrence. The tonnage of the latter has not been originally adapted for carrying grain in bulk but as the wonderfully increased, as also has the grain carrying tonnage of the lakes, owned and controlled by these bold Canadian speculators, and though in view of the twenty or eighty million bushels of grain that will be sent to receive from the West during the present season, the comparatively light receipts at Toronto may come no immediate uneasiness, yet it is the cloud which, though no bigger than a man's hand now, threatens soon to darken the entire grain trade horizon of New York city, unless dispelled by the means we hope indicated. The grain men of New York city ought to endeavor to induce the shipping interest of New York to put a line of propellers upon the ocean built very similar to those now used on the lakes. These propellers have very powerful engines, and in addition to carrying a cargo of 100,000 bushels of grain, they tow from three to five barges, carrying 50,000 bushels each. The barges are towed in a line, one behind the other, some 400 feet apart, and no action of the sea, however rough, ever brings them in collision. They are bound one to the other by strong wire cables, and afford a capacity for transporting grain which may be increased at pleasure, providing only that it should be correspondingly increased in power. It is demonstrable that by such contrivances grain upon the lakes and ocean, may be moved very cheaply, and we could deliver Corn or Wheat, or Oats to New York city, the winter through, at a rate of freight fully half less than that cha ged by rail from Chicago.

Miscellaneous.

The following exhibits the wheat exports from the ports named from September 1, 1872, to date New York, May 16th, 8,376,038 bushels; Baltimore, May 9th, 56,941; Philadelphia, May 9th, 156,112; Boston, May 16th, 1,5[illegible]-629. Total, 8,046,671 bushels, as compared with 5,071,202 in 1871, and 10,952,336 in 1870.

The amount of duties collected at the leading ports of the United States for the last fiscal year were given officially as follows:

New York	$168,615,390 14	Baltimore	$8,077,687 18
Boston	25,622,470 30	New Orleans	5,732,480 10
Philadelphia	8,488,688 76	St Louis	1,013,265 83
San Francisco	8,425,691 01	Charleston	146,125 89

Total, eight ports $221,631,571 24
All other ports of entry 5,209,664 09

Total customs $216,841,236 33

The ship Zonave, which cleared from this port for Liverpool November 30, 1872, with 34,258 centals of wheat, arrived at her destination May 23d.

The bark Helen W Almy, heretofore engaged in the coasting trade, and frequently at this port, has been chartered to load lumber at Humboldt, California, for Honolulu.

The stocks of wheat in the granaries of New York and Boston on the 17th ult, according to the San Francisco Bulletin were 52,000 bushels. More was on hand in Portland at that date.

The first of the new clip California wool arrived in New York on the 18th, and held at 25@30c for short bright, with some burry. New clip is meeting with ready sale in the Boston market, though last season's clips are unsalable there. The only new wool in the Eastern markets with which California has to contend is Texas. Shearing in the Western and Middle States will be later than usual this season, owing to the cold weather this spring.

The production of Railroad Iron in the United States shows gratifying progress. During the year 1872, the quantity manufactured was 842,000 tons, an increase of 266,000 tons over 1871. The quantity imported during the year was 631,000 tons, a decrease of 36,000 tons from 1871. There are 85 rolling mills in the United States which make railroad iron, of which Pennsylvania has 17, Ohio 9, and Illinois and New York each 6. The bulk of the iron of course is made in Pennsylvania, that State last year turning out 42½ per cent. of the total, or 420,000 tons.

The production of wool in Oregon two years ago was estimated at 2,000,000 pounds. This year it will exceed that quantity by 40 per cent. or amount to 2,800,000 lbs. This at 20 cents, the lowest [illegible] realized for it, would be worth $560,000. The wheat crop estimating it at 3,000,000 bushels ought to net the producers $1,600,000 except cost of production.

How the Produce Market.

WHEAT—We shall probably receive but little more of last year's crop before harvest, though there are probably not less than 150,000 bushels yet in the interior to come. Dealers here are paying $1 55 per cental for choice lots.

FLOUR—The Puritan will soon have received her 10,000 barrels for the Orient market; the San Francisco steamer will carry several thousand barrels, while the demand from ports to the northward is fair. Hence prices are steady without any change, though perhaps rather firmer.

OATS—The market is dull and jobbers pay 55 cents ₩ bushel, in sacks.

BARLEY—The local demand is fair at $1 40@1 50 ₩ cwt.

HAY—For good timothy prices are maintained at $14 ₩ ton loose, $15 baled.

POTATOES Market dull and quotations nominal at 75@85 cents ₩ bushel.

BUTTER—The receipts are large and the market well stocked with all qualities. Prices range from 17@22 cents

EGGS—Low rates ruling in San Francisco make weak market here, though 16 cents ₩ dozen is still paid.

CHEESE—There is some feeling noticed in the market, but no appreciable advance in prices.

HIDES—The total shipments for the season have been large and buyers here have been and still are free at current rates. We quote green at 6@7c per pound; salted, 8; dry at 15@16c

WOOL—There is more inquiry among buyers, but growers seem backward in making sales, or the spring clip is late on account of the cool weather. Prices seem to change but little from day to day and shippers will yet offer no more than 20 cents per pound as the average, but choice lots ought to command more.

Shipping Intelligence.

Several sailing vessels are due here, but none have arrived since our last report.

The Ajax arrived from San Francisco this morning, and the John L. Stephens sailed for the same port this evening. Both had full freights.
